We are at the one week mark and counting! CFUNITED-08 kicks off next Wednesday and I found out yesterday that Ray Camden is "extending" his preso on CF8 and Ajax into a 2 PART Preso!

Definitely going back to the Scheduler and swapping some things around so I can attend both parts (after a healthy lunch between parts). It was also cool to see that I got "quoted" on the CFUNITED blog about what I was truly looking forward to at CFUNITED and about new projects I have in the works during CFUNITED. Something about seeing your name alongside others in the CF community that you enjoy learning from and think of as your "distant mentors" really makes a programmer happy.
